Did you know you can change your life, by changing your questions? How would it feel, if you had already realized your most cherished dream, and it was better than the best you could have imagined? Our lives are the crystallization of the questions we ask. Look at anyone you know. Their lives are growing out of their questions. People who ask the question about how they can do as little as possible, and still get by, don't have interesting lives. Those who have very interesting lives invariably started on that path with very interesting questions. Questions are always answered. People who ask why nobody cares about their problems get that question answered. People who ask how they can have fun solving their problems get that question answered, and the answer is a lot more fun. Power questions take the questioner to the solution, almost instantly. Power questions invoke the answer as they are asked. How would you feel, if your major problem just dissolved? What are your top five dreams? How would it feel to be further on the path to achieving them? How would it feel to have already achieved them, and to have five new exciting, inspiring goals? It helps to get out of the problem set, when asking questions, we include a section to loosen up one's thinking. Power questions are a tool used by Tony Robbins, Jack Canfield, Paul Bauer, Tad James, Richard Bartlett, Milton Erickson and NLP Practitioners, and many other great thinkers. We are not aware of any book that has as many power questions as this book has, and once you understand the pattern, you can form your own. How would it feel, if all your dreams were real, right now? This book is an excerpt from the book The Key to the Secret: Manifesting from the Heart, focused solely on Quantum Power Questions, since this is such a useful tool.
